NO ENTRY FOR 'ASYLUM SEEKERS'

BOGUS asylum seekers and illegal immigrants have swept into our country faster than ever since the Labour government was elected. As the word has gone around what a soft touch we are, the torrent of immigrants has turned into rapids.

The government have spread the foreigners around the country in an attempt to hide the real numbers. But there is no longer an area without an immigrant problem. We are beyond saturation point. In places like Dover and Hillingdon, which are two of the arrival points, the councils are no longer able to cater for the needs of the sick and elderly because of the immigrant burden. Even Scotland, Ireland and Wales are being invaded by large numbers of immigrants and with their small indigenous populations it will not take long for the foreigners to become the majority. No wonder the N.F. has been inundated with enquiries from these regions. To listen to our government, racialism is our biggest problem. Surely we should be putting our own people first and, as jobs disappear and public money dries up,it becomes more important than ever to protect what we have.

These so-called asylum-seekers have no justification for coming here. Around a third of them destroy their passports and travel documents so that they can lie about their predicament. Crazy laws say that we have an obligation to feed and house them – but this could be ended immediately if only there were the political will to do so.

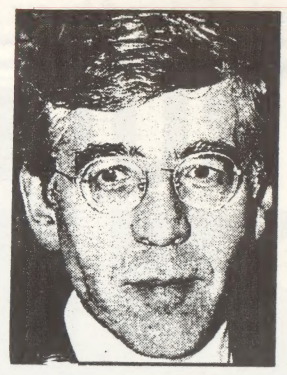
Official figures state that only one quarter of asylum-seekers have been declared refugees. Less than ten per cent are ever seen to return to their homelands. Of the 280,000 (note, these are all that the government will grudgingly admit to) who have come to Britain during the last ten years, only 14,685 have been classified as refugees. It is estimated that illegal immigrants cost us around £3 billion a year, but this does not take into account social security fraud, unpaid rent and criminal activity, and these are official figures far below the true total.

In many areas there is no money for hospitals, education, fire sevices, libraries or care for the old and disabled. People who have paid-in all of their lives have been made to suffer the injustice of being forsaken in favour of grasping, lawless, ungrateful asylum-seekers. Not only injustice has had to be tolerated but also violent crimes of rape, murder, theft and shoplifting on the part of the new arrivals. In London alone 44 major trials have ended in the conviction of asylum-seekers and illegal immigrants. Of these,17 were for rape or serious sexual assault and five were for murder or attempted murder.

The British people should not have to go without while foreigners are treated like royalty. Why should an old-age-pensioner struggle on £42.29 while illegal immigrants are given £168 per week plus food, clothing and housing? Because of a housing shortage many of our own youngsters who find themselves homeless are being lured into a life of drugs, prostitution and organised crime.

Immigrants – we cannot afford them, there are no jobs or houses for them. Our culture and traditions are under enough threat without adding to the problem, and the lawlessness which is part of their make-up is in itself a good enough reason for putting an end to the flood of arrivals and repatriating those already here.

NO RELIEF



Do not expect any relief from the immigrant problem to be offered by Jack Straw, "the man in charge". In March 1998 the Home Secretary, Mr Straw granted tens of thousands of bogus refugees permission to settle in Britain, although most of them had already had their claims for asylum rejected. It was known that many of them were fraudsters with fake passports.This grant of permission to stay, gave a clear indication to other foreigners that the door was wide open. The Communist Organisation Amnesty International publicly supported Mr Straw's actions. Mr Straw was under surveillance by M15 during his student days and when he was at his most impressionable age it was considered by the Communists that "the British people" would "never be converted to Communism" unaided, and that "the revolution" would have to be imported. For everyone's sake we hope that he has left this behind him.

STOP PRESS ~ STOP PRESS ~ STOP PRESS ~ STOP PRESS ~ STOP PRESS ~ STOP

ON THE 9th of January members of the National Front marched through Dover again, carrying the message "Put Britons First".

It was decided to take this Day of Action to let the people of Kent know that they have our full support.

We also hoped that by raising the prominence of the 'refugee' problem the Government may be shamed into taking correct action. The asylum seekers should be returned to their countries of origin and the money saved directed to the sick, elderly and the emergency services.

EDITORIAL — Issue 9

AT LAST, for the first time in over two years we have managed to increase The FLAME to 6 pages. Now we need to get a copy out every month. This is not going to be easy and will take time to happen. But we will get there with your help. We need more varied, typed-out articles on all subjects with photographs. The more we have printed the cheaper they become, so we must further increase our sales. Now that the quality of the paper has improved,we urge a11 branches and activists to increase the number of copies ordered.

1998 has been excellent for the NF. Throughout the year we have achieved outstanding press, TV and radio coverage. We have reached more and more people throughout the UK with our leafleting and election campaigns. For the first time ever, a Nationalist party in Britain handed in a petition at Number 10, Downing Street. For the first time in over ten years we marched through central London in protest against the bogus peace treaty in Northern Ireland and reminded people of our opposition to the IRA. Not once, but twice, the NF marched in Dover in support of local Kent resistance to endless asylum-seekers and immigrants pouring in. The attendance at this year's AGM was substantially larger than for recent years, a true sign that we are gaining strength.

There are many NF members to thank for our success. It takes all of us pulling together and cooperating for things to happen.The Directorate asks all of you to repeat the effort in 1999. You will have the opportunity to do so. The NF is marching in Dover on Saturday January 9th. Come along and see the left wing of the Labour Party trying to stop us, as they usually do. We are contesting the Euro-Elections in more than one seat. We will also be contesting council elections again. A new NF policy leaflet and a new manifesto are on the design table.

The National Front has stuck firmly to its original aims of total withdrawal from the EC and determination to restore our homeland to being a white civilised, Christian country. We haven't at any time watered down our policies, and now the British public is coming to realise that we have been right all along. As a reward for our steadfastness we should soon see a large rush of support for our party.

ENOUGH IS ENOUGH

IN 1995, Bradford, once the 'Jewel in the Crown' of Yorkshire, saw an eruption of immigrant violence, with a mob running riot and out of control. The police were seen by the indigenous community, who were under attack, as being powerless and unable to deal with this racist uprising. The police, then and now, were held in check by the "politically correct" lobby who continuously excuse such violence as being the "product of a racist society."

Since Bradfordians were forced to endure this campaign of 'ethnic cleansing', a relentless campaign of racial discrimination has been directed against the White people of Bradford by the police, the media and the ever-increasing army of blinkered social-workers and do-gooders all of who have instilled a 'guilt complex' in the minds of the indigenous population. We reject this falsehood; the White community of Bradford has gone out of its way to make immigrants feel welcome. Multi-racialism has failed for one simple reason – people do not forget their heritage and traditions just because they decide to live in a foreign country. As can be witnessed from the way immigrant communities establish themselves with their own shops and their own temples, they hold onto their culture, are proud of it and live by its rules. The consequence is that multi-racial societies are not united or harmonious, but are hopelessly fractured and divided; the result of which can clearly be seen in our own city right now.

The truth is clear; we could bend over backwards and give everything we have to accomodate increasing numbers of immigrants, but it will never be enough. The grievance is not simply about housing and jobs; all the race relations and community relations hogwash cannot hide the fact that integration does not work and there can be no peaceful co-existence, only an uneasy stand-off as various minority groups, adhering to their own culture, try to impose their way of life on us. The softly-softly approach, dictated by the establishment and adopted by the police, is only adding to the problem. A growing number amongst the immigrant youth have realised that they can get away with almost anything if they cry "racism!" And here lies the hypocrisy, for far from respecting our culture, our way of life and our society, it is derided, ridiculed and spat upon by the very people who demand respect for their way of life from us.

This situation is not of our making, the politicians and their failed ideological dogma are to blame, but we are the ones who are having to deal with it on a daily basis. So what can be done? Clearly, before anyone can even begin to tackle the problem there is going to have to be a fundamental change in attitude amongst the White population. This attitude change must be directed, in some measure, at the immigrants themselves, who, whilst being the victims of an erroneous multi-racial policy, are uninvited guests. However, of primary importance, and long overdue, is a change of attitude towards the British State, its professed multi-racialism and its puppet politicians, who are actively pursuing a policy that is causing social strife and civil unrest.

Without a shift in White public opinion the present crisis will continue and will deepen. Only when the White community stop feeling guilty and stop being browbeaten by those who have a vested interest in the multi-racial nightmare will an atmosphere emerge in which a solution can be found. That attitude change must begin now. How many more riots will it take to convince you?

If you are a White Bradfordian and you are sick and tired of being treated like a second-class citizen in your own country, then find out more about the National Front, the only party in Bradford that has pledged itseff to fight for the rights of the White population.

National Front move in

NF hit the headlines again — this time in the Epsom & Ewell Herald, on December 9th, 1998

THE extreme right-wing Surrey National Front has set up a new base in Epsom.

And party workers told the Herald this week that the decision to set up a post office box address in the borough had been taken "due to a massive increase in new members and enquiries from the Surrey area".

Over the past three months, the party also claims interest in the organisation from Surrey has ballooned.

It now plans to target the community with a recruitment and leaflet drive, despite being lambasted by Epsom's town hall officials.

Chairman of the National Front's London branch, Steve Reynolds, said: "Recent interest in the party, in particular from this area, has been incredible.

"New enquiries and members have contacted us as well as old members coming back to the party. We wouldn't have bothered spending the money and setting up the branch if there wasn't the interest."

Mr Reynolds also added that the party planned to put forward candidates at next year's borough elections

by Stefan Dicembre

in May.

But Ewell Court ward and residents' association Councillor Eber Kington dismissed Mr Reynolds' claims and said the party should steer well clear of the borough.

The vice chairman of the council's policy and resources committee said: "They have no place in Britain, let alone Epsom.

"We have a history of good race relations in the borough and we do not wish to see this party in our local community.

"I am sure that the Epsom and Ewell people will ignore these individuals and we would find it most disturbing if the Surrey National Front attempted to make race a local election issue."

Factfile

- This is the first time the party has located in the borough in its 30-year history
- The party plans to put forward at least one candidate in next May's borough elections
- London chairman Steve Reynolds claims borough interest in the party has risen because of fears over the forthcoming police boundary changes and the influx of refugees into the county.
- He also said the eco-warriors at the Silver Birches site were going about their protest in the wrong way and were doing more harm than good
- The party has become a target for anti-racist campaigners thanks to its key policy of aiming to halt further immigration into Britain and then "humanely, and with financial assistance, resettling ethnic minorities back to their countries of origin"
- Other policies include adopting a strong anti-Europe stance and the promotion of British-made goods and services.

NF CONFERENCE A GREAT SUCCESS

The Party's AGM was held in a West Midlands Conference centre. As the party grows every year we have to keep finding larger venues. In fact there was insufficient seating and some stood at the back of the hall as it filled to capacity.

Two important resolutions were passed, both unanimously. Firstly our opposition to Britain adopting the single currency and secondly for us to campaign vigourously for the 1948 Nationality Act to be repealed. This has always been our policy but in light of recent events we felt that it was time to give this issue maximum publicity. Immediately we were proven right, for in the press, on Friday 6th November, it was reported that it was the black voters in America who determined the outcome of the elections.

Terry Blackham from South London receives the coveted Albert Mariner award

The AGM gave us the opportunity to present the Albert Mariner award to the most outstanding and dedicated member of the year. The shield was presented by party Chairman John McAuley to Terry Blackham the National Activities Organiser from South London. The award to Terry we felt was long overdue and well deserved. Terry and his activists have been responsible for our recent marches and our rapid progress in Dover. Terry has put the NF back in the news. The Branch efficiency cup went to South London London NF with Birmingham as the runners-up. The Flame sales league produced the same result. Both the collection and the day's sales trebled on last year's conference figures.

Because of security reasons we never advertised the conference in The Flame: we kept the date and venue secret apart from the Branch Organisers who were expected to give the date and rough location details out in a branch bulletin. This reduced the problems that we might encounter from opposition groups. We understand that some members wanted to attend but did not receive notification in time. We advise all Organisers in future to make their members aware in time.T o be fair however it is also advisable for members to keep in contact with their local branch committee.

We would like to thank all of those who attended and gave generously to the party. Also we would like to thank our guest speaker from the Loyalist Prisoners Association.

NATIONAL FRONT RADIO PROGRAMME ON AIR NOW!

DURING the summer eight thirty-minute radio programmes produced in support of the National Front were aired over the Internet. On these programmes we were able to get across the racial nationalist message in a format undreamed of just a few years ago. Subjects discussed during the broadcasts included "The Truth About 'Cool Britannia'", "The Insidious Media Influence' and "Economy In Crisis". A significant overseas audience was built up over the eight week period and it was clear that there exists great potential for the broadcasts. At the end of the eight weeks it was decided not to continue with any further broadcasts until a number of issues both political and technical could be resolved which would put the broadcasts on a more secure footing. It has to be recognised that for such initiatives to generate any kind of revenue, they must first receive the full support of the National Front membership. Yet those NF members without access to the Internet are hardly aware of the existence of these broadcasts, or the fact that they will be returning on a weekly basis from the new year, with a technical quality which will be greatly improved from that of the early test broadcasts

CONTRIBUTIONS NEEDED

In addition we are in the process of establishing a fully-functional multimedia Web-site containing both audio and video footage. In order to add video footage to the operation we require funds in order to purchase the necessary equipment, though of greater importance than this is the success of the radio programme. Let me reiterate that we are now in the position to produce a weekly 30 minute broadcast which can be heard literally around the world as clearly as if the words were being spoken by someone sitting next to you. We have already tested the technology and have already built up a small audience which can only increase as the programmes become a regular feature. No other political grouping in the United Kingdom has produced audio programming and only one other nationalist grouping has done so in the whole world and so we can secure a niche market virtually for ourselves. Again, let me stress that it is difficult to generate any kind of commercial revenue from such an operation but that is equally so with any kind of Nationalist material that is produced. What is required, and what is essential for these programmes to succeed are contributions from NF members and supporters. Here I am not just talking about financial contributions, but contributions in terms of possible scripts, news items and other information which can be put to use on the programme. If the material goes some way towards exposing, uncovering or merely alluding to the globalists plans for a one-world order then that is the kind of material we are seeking, in addition to absolutely anything about Race, Europe and the Economy.

WORLDWIDE AUDIENCE

These broadcasts are heard worldwide and we have a large number of listeners in the United States, so clearly the broadcasts must be relevant on a world scale, not just from a British or even a European angle, so please bear this in mind if you can submit a script to us. Even if you are not in a position to actively assist in the production of these broadcasts, then please – if you have access to the Internet – listen to the broadcasts (currently a repeat from June can be heard) and tell us what you think. Most of all, tell other people and promote the programme. Put the Internet address on local leaflets. Never miss an opportunity to alert people to the existence ofthe programme. They are free of copyright so local units can make tapes and distribute them to their members. We want these programmes to commence on a weekly basis from the new year. We have the equipment. What we lack is a sufficient quantity of material to include on the programme in addition to the funds to pay the upload bill to the Internet. These are not substantial amounts, by any means and basically consist of the payment for the additional Web space and telephone costs but if these are not paid then we are off air. (If anyone has a couple of hundred pounds to spare right now, we could be back on with regular programming tomorrow!)

GREAT OPPORTUNITY

These programmes afford us with one of the greatest opportunities that the NF has ever had to get its message across. We should have been doing this a couple of years ago. Let us not waste any more time! As the digital revolution in this country begins to really take off from next year we will have, in the UK alone, a potential audience of upwards of two million in addition to reaching millions of Fellow Whites around the globe. We already have an audience of thousands. Every day we receive requests for the programmes to return. At election time and with the European campaign approaching such programmes will be invaluable. But their success depends upon you. Remember that if just a few years ago. someone had said that in the closing year of this century, British Nationalists would have a radio programme that could be heard around the world you might have thought that they were living in the clouds. Yet the programme exists. It is here and it is now on air. All it needs now, is your support. And make a careful note of the Web Site:

Just one character out of place will prevent its use. All characters are lower case!

PRESCOTT'S UNPOPULAR CAR BAN

John Prescott wants to introduce new charges for using and parking cars in our cities. He hopes that we will use other means of transport and thinks that we should not make unnecessary journeys. His plans are pathetic: no one uses their car more than they have to and with what seems like two pounds a pint for petrol, who would?

To impose an even greater financial burden on the motorist is unfair: there just is no alternative to a heavy reliance on the car. Some of Prescott's ideas are quite 'Orwellian': Midnight curfews for inexperienced motorists was one of them. To make employees pay large sums to park in their employers private car parks is an intrusion into civil liberty. If there is an agreement between two people (employer and employee) on a private area, it should not be possible for the government to intervene. You will see more of this intrusion into private life as the E.U. gains more power, for under their rules the private individual has no freedom.

The car is the only safe, reliable and speedy way of getting around. Not until a cheap and efficient system of public transport is evolved will there be an alternative to the car. With abduction of children, rape and murder commonplace, no responsible parent would leave their offspring out unsupervised – nor would they allow them to ride bicycles upon our frenzied highways.The volume of traffic has grown significantly during the last fifteen years and the problem has been made even worse by the Asians who often have five or six cars to a family.

Both the reliance on cars and the violence on our streets has been as a direct result of government policies. Dr Beeching closed most of the branch railway lines and started the change from movement of freight by rail to road. Succesive governments have carried on building motorways and neglecting other means of transport. The whole transport programme has been geared to creating roads that would move traffic at high speed, over long distances. This has often been done by turning B roads which were built for local traffic into motorways. There is no longer any provisions made for cyclists.

The National Front has always wanted to make more use of the railways and canal networks for transporting goods. We have deplored the great waste of fertile land and the spoiling of many of our areas of natural outstanding beauty which have been covered by motorways. If the NF had been in government we would not be in this predicament. Small changes can be made gradually and that is why Prescott's legislation is an imposition. If there is a large public outcry this ruling could be set aside.

THE LABOUR GOVERNMENT: WORSE THAN OUR WORST NIGHTMARE

PETER MANDELSON and Tony Blair tricked their way to election victory by taking advantage of the Tories' unpopularity.

They very cleverly read the mood of the public and told them what they wanted to hear. They boasted that they would be able to fulfill the desires of the electorate especially in regard to the National Health Service, education and law and order. Since they've taken control, every aspect of our daily lives has deteriorated. Hospitals they promised to keep open have closed. Drug abuse and murder are at a all-time high, and it is admitted that one million children are currently being taught by teachers who are not qualified in the subjects they teach.

New Labour are a party of cunning and deceit. They said before the election that they would not sign up to the single currency and that a decision would not be made during this term of parliament. It is clear that they intend to sign up to the single currency just as soon as they think that they can get away with it, and they have been telling the bureaucrats in Brussels so. They plan to do it in a secret underhand manner, similar to that in which Edward Heath signed the Treaty of Rome.

This sly government has not mentioned either that they are operating an open-door policy on immigration where almost anyone can enter and sponge off the welfare state. (Well they are all good Labour voters aren't they?) We are currently being swamped by foreigners, and as unemployment rises a great discontent will follow and expose the powder keg that this government has done much to create.

LABOUR'S UNDESIREABLE INFLUENCE.

There have always been homosexuals. When they kept a low profile and were not in public office they did not present a problem. Like race and gender, homosexuality has become a weapon of the left. We now find the government competing with the Liberals to be the party of perversion and homosexuality. For many years Ron Davies has lived with, and been part of this disgusting crusade. To what degree has he been a victim of his own Labour Party propoganda? You can just hear his comrades saying, "Wife ill; go and enjoy a bit of perversion. It is all normal, you know." So, having been influenced by Labour homosexual propoganda, he goes in search for some other deviants. As he enters an immigrant stronghold in South London he recalls another piece of Labour Party propoganda: "Areas of dense irnmigrant population are safe for whites." Mr Davies was mugged and robbed at knifepoint, which is just what you might expect. Note, however, that the MP knew that it was Rastafarians he needed to see to procure a sex partner.

Both the Labour Party and the BBC are left-wing and subversive organisations.The latter control exactly what messages are broadcast and this was clearly seen when a directive was given not to mention Peter Mandelson's homosexuality. (We know that there has been a long standing directive not to mention the National Front "unless you can show them in a bad light"). This Davies fiasco has brought to our attention the close friendship between Peter Mendelson and BBC boss Sir John Birt. Labours stand on homosexuality was further clarified, when Paul Boateng from the Home Office, made the following statements in a BBC television interview. He said that "gay couples deserve the same status as married couples" and that he thought that it was right to cut married tax allowance.

What is even more disturbing about the Labour Party is that we find Michael Cashman, a gay activist, on Labour's National Executive. As an actor in a television soap opera, he took part in a homosexual kiss.This was presumeably to give the impression of it being normal behaviour to the children watching. No doubt the scene was included at Cashman's suggestion. Now it has been revealed that Nick Brown the Agriculture minister,is a homosexual. Brown had previously been Labour's Chief Whip, where he would have been in a position to intimidate his fellow MP's on voting issues.

We now get an idea of the power and influence, behind the bill to lower the age of consent for homosexuals. This dangerous piece of legislation was passed by the House of Commons and sent to the House of Lords, where many traditionalists and guardians of moral values objected. The response from our perverse government has been to hasten their attempts to get rid of the House of Lords and replace it with a second chamber, filled with Jewish-solicitor friends of Cherie Blair's. Such is the extent of this homosexual problem within the Labour Party that we have encountered several former Labour Party members, including activists who have been expelled for voicing the opinion that they "recognise the importance of a traditional man-and-wife family and do not want to promote homosexuality as an alternative". We must keep a close watch on further developments.

LABOUR CAN NO LONGER HIDE THEIR TREACHERY

EVEN with friends in the news media the government is unable to hide its anti-British aims. Here are a few examples.

♦ Despite their protestations, we have seen in the last few weeks the true intention of the government with their eagerness to join the single currency and Euro State.

♦ Labour have always, at any opportunity, cut back on our defence levels. They have also now disbanded most of the Territorial Army.

♦ Despite the problems of black gang rape being brought out into the open, no extra police have been provided to make the streets safe. That would fly in the face of Labour policy.

♦ Within the last three month numerous large companies have either closed down, drastically reduced staff or gone on a three-day week.It has not taken Labour long to create industrial chaos.

♦ Millions of pounds of taxpayers money is being wasted on trying to convince us to accept the single currency. Vast amounts of money are being spent on illegal immigrants and the anti-British race laws industry, yet the government refuse to give nurses the pay increases they deserve.

♦ The extreme left of the Labour Party still control the National Union of Teachers. This Marxist organisation has maintained its hold over the school curriculum, and ensure that our children do not receiving a high standard of education.

♦ Homosexuality is rife within the ranks of the Labour Party. As a result it is being taught in our schools that perversion is normal.

♦ The motorist has been hit not only by exorbitant petrol increases but new parking regulations that can only be described as an imposition. Many people cannot even park outside their own houses or visit their families without fear of fines.

♦ The Labour government has surrendered its political independence and takes its orders secretly from powerful international organisations.

♦ As soon as they were elected, this government set about the breaking-up of the United Kingdom and the selling-out of Northern Ireland.

We have also had the disgraceful handling of the General Pinochet affair. Chile has been a stable and successful country for many years, to a large extent this has been due to General Pinochet. When he took a firm line with terrorists, drug pushers, Marxists and rebels, many of them fled to England. These undesirables were welcomed into our country by the Labour government, where they were immediately housed and invited to join the Labour Party.

Now that General Pinochet is here, these exiled troublemakers, together with the Marxists within the Labour Party, have seized the opportunity, so to speak, to put the boot into the ageing general.

The action of our reckless government has been to open up old divisions within Chile and sour relations between our two countries. Many Chileans have taken to the streets and burned the Union Jack. This is unfortunate because that is our flag – the emblem of the British people. The only symbols relevant to the Labour Party are either the Hammer and Sickle or the figure 666 (the Mark of the Beast).

How dare this government criticise other countries' actions, when they themselves are attempting the genocide of the white British nation?

Labour have encouraged immigrants into the country but now, feeling that it may cost them votes in London, they are spending 30 million pounds to re-house them outside the capital. This is the first time that the practise has been widely reported in the daily newspapers, but in fact it has been going on for years. A report at the end of November exposed the violent criminal activity of the asylum seekers. In the London area alone 44 major trials took place with numerous convictions of asylum seekers and illegal immigrants. Of those cases mentioned 17 were for rape and sexual assault and 5 were for murder or attempted murder. Another 44,000-plus asylum seekers are expected this month. Immigration is up by at least fifty per cent since Labour took power. There is rapidly growing frustration and concern over the issue within the British public. What has been the response from our government? A new anti-racist law uniting parliamentary and E.C. power to try and silence all debate an the subject. Is there no end to the treachery of this Labour government?

The government intends to make fluoridation of the water supply compulsory. Fluoride is a highly toxic industrial waste product: the dangers far outweigh any possible usefulness. Fluoride has a potentially damaging effect on the human organism. The full extent of the danger is not known, but it has been banned in many countries including America, Canada and Scotland. For anyone wishing to use fluoride, tablets are available. Forcibly to add fluoride to our drinking water is downright Orwellian.

Labour wants to put an end to grammar schools, a form of education which has allowed brighter children from working-class families to develop to their utmost ability and put them in good stead for a university education. This is intolerable.

All British traditions are targets for Labour. The House of Lords has become a priority for the government to abolish. Not only is it part of our heritage, it is also the last bastion of power for the Englishman.

Despite the deep anxiety of the public, genetically modified foods have been allowed to be put on sale – without being identified. Irradiated foods are also still not marked as such. The public's health and anxieties mean nothing to our government.

TOO LITTLE TOO LATE

by John Cosier of Birmingham National Front

"Now it's war on the terrorists..."

Heard that before? Tony Blair, Mo Mowlam and the Irish Government have pledged to hunt them down and leave them no hiding place. If only British Nationalists had faith in such people.

This sort of talk is a little late for the thousands of innocent men, women and children murdered by the IRA and utterly baffling for the rest of us. If it is possible to hunt down and lock away terrorists so easily then why hasn't somebody been doing it for the past 25 years? And why did we have to wait for an appalling atrocity like Omagh before any action against the 'Real IRA' who have admitted carrying out this cowardly deed?

These are not new terrorists – only a few months ago theywere members ofthe official IRA (and probably still are), They have experience in blowing to bits innocent British citizens for years yet their leader has been known by the security forces all along. Every-one has seen the pictures of this murdering scumbag, Mickey McKevitt, his house and even his garden. His wife, Bernadette Sands, has given radio interviews and we know that McKevitt is the 'former' quartermaster of the IRA and the man who knows the whereabouts of ALL the organisation's arms and explosives. We know that a detonator for one bomb used by the 'Real IRA' had been bought by the IRA. Yet McKevitt has been happily running his T-shirt business as well as the 'Real IRA' ever since the peace deal was signed with no action by the security services against him.

It is a sickeningly familiar story. After all, known murderers like Gerry Adams and Martin McGuinness have not only been allowed to flaunt their IRA credentials, they have been transformed into leading citizens. Yet they have not handed over one gun nor turned in one killer.

If history is to re-run accurately, now that McKevitt has declared his own ceasefire, it cannot be long before Tony Blair is welcoming him over the doorstep of Number 10 and offering him a job as a Minister in the Northern Ireland government. Of course, the 'Real IRA' has no doubt splintered again and the mad-dog wing of the lunatic element is almost certainly somewhere planning its first outrage. They have enough explosives, detonators and rifles stashed around Ireland to keep them going for many a year. And there are, under the terms of the so-called peace process, endless trained IRA assassins being released on the streets to keep their ranks swollen for years to come.

What the lunacy of this situation demonstrates is that what was needed in Ulster all along was not a peace deal but a declaration of war against the IRA. A war that would have been easily won under a National Front government that would not have begun a process of letting the IRA terrorists out of prison, but with a totally committed campaign against them with the resources to grind them into the ground. If the British people of Ulster had been given what they asked for in the first place, there would never have existed a 'Real IRA' or any IRA for that matter,

The National Front refuses to listen to the lie that this time it will be different. Too many innocent people have died at the hands of the IRA and its aligned groups and the pathetically weak and feeble responses from past and present 'British' governments to the Republican terror campaign has sent only one message to the IRA – TERRORISM WORKS!

Only when the Westminster traitors are removed can the British people hope to see any type of firm handling of the IRA or whatever name they may choose to go under as they continue to bomb their way to Downing Street.

COULD THESE BE YOUR NEW NEIGHBOURS ?

BOTH Labour and Tory governments have been totally irresponsible and allowed just about anyone to enter our country. We know nothing of these immigrants' backgrounds, yet our government is urging them to join our police and armed forces.

Peace is a delicate thing as we can see in Ireland. Britain became civilised because we were all of one race and rnanaged to iron out our regional differences. Liberals try to pretend that Britain has been civilised due to some accident of geography. This is nonsense and the violence that engulfs so many areas of the world could just as easily happen here. It should be plain to see that liberals, do-gooders and champagne socialists have been undermining our culture, religion and traditions, while at the same time encouraging foreigners to decide our future. As a result of this fifth column activity, violence has erupted on to our streets. It is inevitable that unless this multi-racial process is reversed the various races and religious groups will eventually polarise and create civil war.

Labour, Liberals, Conservatives and Communists have all been responsible for creating this dangerous situation. That is why under no circumstances should you vote for any of them.

NF REMEMBER BRITISH WAR DEAD

All over the country National Front branches paid their respects on Remembrance Day at local war memorials. Here are some members caught on camera –

FUND RAISING FOR THE EURO-ELECTIONS IN THE WEST MIDLANDS

On Saturday, 31st October, West Midlands NF members from Dudley and Birmingham branches walked from Birmingham International Airport to Meriden (which is the centre of England) in horrendous driving rain in order to raise funds for our candidature in the 1999 Euro-Elections.

Over £100 was raised. We wish to thank all those who donated to this worthwhile cause.

At the end of the walk

JOHN REDWOOD MP MEETING

On Friday 13th November West Midlands NF members attended a meeting of the Freedom Association in Coventry, where the Rt Hon John Redwood MP was giving a talk on Europe and the common currency. Norris McWhirter, of Guiness Book of Records fame, chaired the 200-strong gathering. Mr Redwood spoke on the problems of the Euro, especially for small retailers who would need two tills for their transactions. Costs of goods will rise and there would be further loss of sovereignty, as an unelected banker based in Frankfurt would control finance in Europe. Unemployment throughout the EC would have to be subsidised by Britain.

One NF member put a question about asylum seekers causing a financial strain on Kent, and causing anger with their criminal activity. Mr Redwood agreed that this was an intolerable situation and would deteriorate further while we are controlled by the dictates of the EC. However, he was all in favour of us remaining an EC member, which is rather confusing in view of his apparent understanding of the problems just mentioned. This was rather disappointing for the audience who wanted total withdrawal from the EC.

Mr Redwood spoke eloquently and passionately. At the end of the meeting he was given a copy of The Flame which he said he would read. NF leaflets were handed out to people who attended the meeting. Members should keep an eye out for Freedom Association meetings. There may well be influential recruits to be found here with views akin to our owm who could be won over to our cause.

NF EURO-ELECTION FUND '99TARGET: £15,000

THE NATIONAL FRONT is appealing for £15,000 if we are to be in a position to contest TEN seats in the European Elections which are now only 4 months away. We have no illusions regarding the task that lies ahead of us, as this will be our most ambitious venture since the seventies. Nonetheless, morale is high, with branches already raising funds, leafletting and selecting prospective candidates.

The branches that have thrown their hats into the ring, and the areas they will be contesting are:

South London: Beckenham, Kent area. West London: Middlesex area.
Home Counties: Hertfordshire seat. West Midlands: To be decided.

Others to follow: Liverpool, Norfolk, Portsmouth, Walsall, Birmingham, Kent No.2.

LETTERS to The FLAME

Write to: PO Box 274, Hemel Hempstead, Herts, HP3 9EQ

Sir,
I feel sick that modern day Britons are so apathetic and spineless that they fiddle about while the disintegration of their state takes place before their very eyes.

To my father, two miles deep in the Atlantic, and all the men and women who fought with you, and died and suffered with the civilians who suffered so much to keep up the home, I am sorry.

Their memory deserves so much better.

Tony Weeks,
Gosnells, West Australia.

Sir,
It was reported on the 22nd December that the Armed Forces had requested special food to be made available for Asian, Jewish and black servicemen and that a recruitment drive was to be undertaken to get more foreigners enlisted. It was claimed that the armed forces themselves sought these changes, but I do not believe it for one rnoment – this idea was cooked up by our red, internationalist government.

Foreigners are likely to be a security risk and would often find themselves with conflicting interests and allegiances. Only the English, Irish, Scottish and Welsh should be allowed to enter our armed forces, and our defence chiefs should have the courage to say so. After all, courage is what we expect from our senior officers. So let them stand up to the tin-pot Marxist dictators within our own government. This is what each officer should say: "As a senior member of the British armed forces I cannot do anything that would put the defence of our realm at risk or reduce the capability of our forces. Therefore I urge you to reconsider this ill thought out legislation"

J Peters
Bristol.

Sir,
On Sunday 29th November I heard on BBC radio a report by the World Council of Churches. This organisation was set up to try to destroy all religions, but its main target is Christianity. The World Council of Churches gained momentum in the mid-70's until a book was published exposing their true intent. This book was called The Fraudulent Gospel. Many National Front members, including myself helped to distribute copies; they were given away free. This exposure caused many Christian organisations to disassociate themselves from this body, the Salvation Army being one of the first to do so. It seemed that with wide distribution of the book the WCC had been killed off. Needless to say, I am disappointed to see this anti-religious organisation back in business. I would be grateful for anyone who still has a copy to make it available to me, so that it can be reproduced again.

R.Sykes,
Hertfordshire.

Sir,
Congratulations to those that organised our AGM. Great venue, meeting new and old friends made up for the wet and windy autumn weather. I look forward to reading up on the common sense proposals agreed and lobbying those that hold the power in this country as an individual in the form of letters, a subtle form of action we should all participate in from time to time to keep the pressure up.

Looking forward to an eventful year ahead with lots of activities politically and socially. Congatulations again to the National Front for keeping alive patriotism and standing up for the rights of the indigenous population.

N K
Maidstone, Kent.

Sir,
We are always being told what happens in America today will be Britain's tomorrow, though it be twenty years later. A bleak outlook indeed as 1985 statistics show there were 629,000 interracial attacks committed. Of those 9 out of 10 were blacks against whites. This could be happening now as this type of statistic would not be let out. Remember the stickers "Nine out of ten muggers are black"? How long before Condon agreed this was right.

According to the liberal media black violent crime against whites does not exist: how dare we even think such a thing!!!!

Mrs J Covey,
Yorkshire.

Sir,
The Bishop of Worcester, Peter Selby, says that "the Church of England should discard its traditional stand against homosexuality". He went further by suggesting"that the clergy should do penance over past attitudes to them". It seems that cranks, sexual deviants and Marxists within the Church now outnumber the Christians, at least amongst those holding office.

The Bible from which Christians take their directions is sacrosanct. If Bishops are not happy with the rules, then they should join some other religion. If you change the rules of football so that you can handle the ball and tackle your oppononts rugby style, you are no longer playing football. Likewise if you change the meaning of Christianity, you no longer have Christianity.

The argument is often put forward that "all religions have good points and that we should take something from each". It's easy if you do not think carefully about it,to be deceived. Shakespeare, Dickens, Cookson, Blyton and Christie were all great writers, but if you were to take a chapter from each of their books to make one story a meaningless muddle would emerge. The same is true of this "coming together" exercise and it should be resisted with the utmost determination.

There have been greater men than the liberal apologists currently within the church for whom Christianity in its unadulterated form was good enough. It has been the liberalising of Christianity which has emptied the churches and brought about its decline. Church leaders would do better spending their time trying to turn the millenium celebrations into a Christian festival. At the moment the project has been hi-jacked by politicians and businessmen out to make a quick fortune. The Dome being constructed has no more to do with Christianity than Disney World and should never have got past the suggestion stage.

B Franklin
Hertfordshire

Sir,
Anyone who does not believe that the ultimate aim of Brussels is the break up of the United Kingdom should write to the European Commission 8 Storey's Gate, London SW1 and ask for a copy of the relevant booklet: 'South - East', 'Scotland' or whatever.

Each area is now described as a "region of the European Union" with no mention of England, the United Kingdom or Great Britain. And there is already a process well advanced and organised by the 'Committee of Regions' in which your region is being renamed.

Readers of The Flame beware! No matter where you may live you might find some cynical handover is already happening in your area.

Catherine Straker,
Sussex.

Bob Campbell

NATIONAL FRONT memhers in Yorkshire were greatly saddened to learn of the death of Bob Cambell, an activist for many years and a former chairman of the party's Leeds branch. Even in his late fifties, Bob regularly sold papers in Leeds precinct and rarely missed a meeting, putting to shame many nationalists who were both younger than him and had fewer personal commitments.

A blunt Yorkshireman, with forthright views, Bob Campbell was never afraid to speak his mind. This honesty earned him the hatred of the opportunists who 'led' the party during the most tragic period in its recent past. Bob never retumed this hatred and remained loyal to the National Front throughout. He was a source of encouragement to myself and others in forming a branch in East Yorkshire.

Many nationalists inside and outside the party will join in saluting the memory of a true patriot. We regret he never saw the victory day which he fought for and we still struggle towards.

"Forget all feuds, and shed one English tear
O'er English dust."

THE PLOT THICKENS

Lord David Sainsbury has left the running of his superstore to try and sign us up to the single currency. Previously, John Sainsbury was Treasurer of the European Movement at the time Edward Heath sold us out. Heath was of course controlled by his think-tank which was led by Lord Rothschild. John Sainsbury, having damaged our sovereignty and helped put us under the control of the Eurocrats, distanced himself from the stench of the EC, passing the baton to younger cousin David. In August 1996 David Sainsbury gave £250,000 to the pro-EC lobby for their brainwashing programme.

David Sainsbury will join with Peter Mandelson, Leon Brittan and Michael Heseltine to plot the end of the British nation. Take note that there is not one Christian Anglo-Saxon among them. An assault on Christianity was therefore predictable and has come in the form of the latest EC plans. It has been suggested that for convenience of trade and banking our traditional British holidays should be abolished. This would of course mean the end of Easter and Whitsun as we know them. Further to this, some of the Sainsbury stores were open on Christmas Day this year. If we are not careful, Christmas Day will no longer be celebrated as a Holy Day, just as Sunday has become like any other day.

POLICIES FOR A FREE BRITAIN

Put British people first – end the lunacy of "positive discrimination"

Halt communist subversion in our schools, colleges and mass media.

Maintain and improve an entirely free National Health Service. Abolish prescription charges - we do not believe in charging people when they are ill and likely to be losing money anyway.

Stop all unnecessary imports now! We want British goods made in British factories providing jobs for British workers.

Invest all money in our own industries, not abroad. Support private enterprise, give workers real incentives by tax cuts and profit sharing.

Get Britain out of the European Community. British people should determine their own future.

Crack down on muggers and all violent crime. Bring back the death penalty for murderers and terrorists.

Help young families by increasing family allowances and by measures such as free school meals for all.

Stop all immigration NOW. Use foreign aid money to fund a programme of phased, human repatriation for non-Europeans.

A return to healthy moral values, thereby strengthening the family and the community.

The ultimate defeat of IRA terrorism and firm support for the Loyalist majority in Northern Ireland. Also, to terminate the Anglo-Irish agreement (this was only entered into under American pressure) as the so called "peace process" is, in realty, nothing more than a hidden agenda for the gradual surrender of the whole of Ulster.

An alternative defence strategy that would include closing all foreign military bases on British soil and not becoming involved in overseas wars that were no threat to British interests – such as the conflict in the former Yugoslavia. But at the same time, strengthen our armed forces and adopting a position of armed neutrality.

Creating a healthy environment for a healthy people by employing firm measures against pollution, protecting our countryside against the spread of urbanisation and ending the architectural disfigurement of our towns and cities.

Regenerating farming in Great Britain with the objective of achieving maximum self sufficiency in food production. Also, restoring the fishing industry and protecting our traditional fishing grounds - and not tolerating European or any other foreign interference.

The Monarchy: Great Britain has been a Christian kingdom for a thousand years, and no matter what others may say, we should be unashamedly proud of everything it stands for. As long as whoever succeeds the present Queen, whom we hope will reign for many more years to come, continues to defend the true Christian faith, and none other, we will always be first and foremost for the Monarchy which we see as being central to the stability of our society. But should whoever becomes the next Sovereign break with this covenant we would have no hesitation in calling for his or her replacement.

This brief outline of our policies should show how we stand regarding some of the serious and worsening social problems facing us today. And, in many respects, we believe our views to coincide with those of the silent majority. Therefore, even if you find yourself agreeing only with some, if not all, of our policies you are a supporter of the National Front – even if you do not think so

Remember the NF in your will!

The National Front wishes all its members and supporters a long life, but none of us can live forever. The NF relies upon the generosity of its members, supporters and the general public for its funds.
You may not be able to help the National Front at present, but when making your will you can help with a bequest.

MAKING A WILL

There are four ways in which to make a bequest.

EITHER: A. Residuary Bequest is a share of your estate after all other bequests have been made and costs have been met.

OR: A. Reversionary Bequest which would enable the NF to benefit after other beneficiaries have been provided for during their lifetime.

OR: You can simply arrange for a fixed sum of money to be donated to the NF. This is called a Pecuniary Bequest.

OR: You can make a Specific Bequest of any identifiable assets e.g. house. land, stocks and shares, jewellery or any article of value.

When you make your will you give yourself peace of mind, knowing that you have helped keep the NF going after you have gone.

It is very important that you take professional advice. Like so many matters to do with the law there are certain mistakes which need to be avoided. If you consult a solicitor, making a will is simple. You may qualify for help with the cost if your income is low.

We suggest you take along one of our Compliment Slips, Business cards or something with either our telephone number or PO Box number, to avoid any mistakes, where your bequest could end up in the wrong hands.

REMEMBER IF YOU DIE INTESTATE THE ONLY ONES TO BENEFIT WILL BE THE VERY ESTABLISHMENT THAT YOU'VE BEEN FIGHTING ALL YOUR LIFE.
